CHURCHES RESORT TO LITIGATION.

Three Lay Claim to the Five Hundred Dollars Provided in Mrs. Gosky's Will—A Verdict Against the Thomas Mount Estate—Probate Court Notes.

CANTON, June 10.—George McCurdy began suit Thursday afternoon against Louis Greenwald, a local saloon keeper, to recover damages amounting to $2,500. It is alleged in the petition that Greenwald sold intoxicants to Mr. McCurdy's minor son, John McCurdy, on various occasions. It is further claimed that while intoxicated with liquor sold him by the defendant, young McCurdy assaulted his father on June 6th, 1898, greatly injuring him.

Judge McCarty's decision favored the defendant Thursday afternoon, in the case of Thomas Mount's administrator vs. Treasurer Geib. Action was brought to prevent the collection of taxes on $41,006,41.

The arguments in the case involving the $500 bequeathed by Mrs. Gosky to the First Church of God, of Canton, are being heard by Judge McCarty today. There are three Churches of God in Canton and each claims to be first, and, therefore, to be entitled to the money. Judge Baldwin represents the First church established in Canton, Lawyer Sterling the Washington avenue church and Lawyer Bow the East Tuscarawas street church. The latter two churches aver that the church represented by Judge Baldwin has been dismissed from he conference.

The case of Borden et al. against Ricks et al. has been on trial in room No. 2 before Judge Taylor and a jury all week. It was a suit to hold the defendants surety in an injunction case responsible for $500, the amount of a bond given in carrying the case to a higher court. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs for $475. Reinoehl and Welty & Albaugh represented the plaintiffs and Day, Lynch & Day the defendants.

The common pleas court assignment for next week consists of 33 cases, 19 for Judge McCarty and 14 for Judge Taylor. The first on the list is Murphy's administrator vs. the Wheeling & Lake Erie railway, and other cases of interest to Massillonians are Poorman's executors vs. the O. E. Young Coal Company, Vogt vs. Jorden and others and the Fulton Machine Company vs. the McFadden Coal Company.

The third partial account has been filed in the estate of William McFarren, of Sugarcreek township. Henry Bixler has been appointed guardian of Catherine Eidenier, of Plain township. Joseph Kahler has been appointed guardian of Lora Kahler, of Massillon. Sale of lot No. 1575 has been confirmed in the assignment of Levi M. Jones, of Canton.

Marriage licenses have been granted to Robert Edmund Clementz and Mary Elizabeth Keller, of Massillon; Levi Haines and Harriet Garl, of Marlboro; Edward Adams and Ida M. Critsor, and John H. Erk and Christie B. Stokley, of Canton.

FLAG DAY.

Mayor Wise Wishes it Celebrated in Massillon.

Mayor Wise issued a proclamation today, urging the citizens of Massillon to decorate their residences and business places on Tuesday, which is the 121st anniversary of the adoption of the United States flag by congress. He is supported in this by a number of leading citizens, and it is to be hoped that the citizens generally will comply with the request.

THE MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION,

To the Citizens of Massillon:

Tuesday, June 14, 1898, being the 121st anniversary of the adoption of our beautiful flag by congress, and the same being known as Flag Day throughout the United States of America, and especially should it be observed this year, I, therefore, heartily request all citizens of Massillon to decorate their residences and especially the business men their places of business, with the Stars and Stripes. It is desired that a special display of our flag be made on this day. Being at war with a foreign nation, there is no better way to kindle the fire of patriotism in the hearts of all true American citizens than to have Old Glory floating from every house top. Let us turn our beautiful city into one streamer of red, white and blue on June 14, 1898.

JACOB WISE,
Mayor.

THE STORM FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Big Hail Stones do Serious Damage About Town.

Stories told by the oldest inhabitants describing hail stones "large as eggs" will hereafter be listened to with respectful attention. Charles Ruch weighed eight of the stones, which fell Friday afternoon and says they tipped the scales at one ounce apiece, while in different parts of the city they were found to measure five and six inches in circumference. The storm did serious damage to fruit trees and foliage about town. At the charity school 120 panes of glass were broken in the windows on the north side of the building, curtains were torn down, and window shades riddled with holes. Trees about the grounds were stripped of their leaves and fruit, and many branches broken. Mr. Hanna estimates the damage to wheat to be $600.

GUILTY OF HORSE STEALING.

Perry Swartz so Found by the Jury on Wednesday.

CANTON, June 9.—In the case of Ohio vs. Perry Swartz, tried before Judge McCarty on Wednesday, a verdict of guilty was returned by the jury. Swartz was indicted by the grand jury for horse stealing. The verdict was considerable of a surprise to those familiar with the case. "Chub" Piero and "Dutch" Frank having pleaded guilty, this disposes of the criminal assignment for the week.

CLEVELAND VISITORS.

Retail Coal Dealers on a Visit of Inspection.

NUMEROUS MINES ARE VISITED.

The Massillon District Coal Operators' Association Entertains the Party, Which Numbers About Three Hundred and Fifty—A Special Train.

The retail coal dealers of Cleveland and Massillon, as guests of the Massillon District Operators' Association, are spending the day inspecting the Massillon mines located on the C., L. & W. and W. & L. E. railways. The special train bearing a party of 350 or more, left Cleveland this morning at 6:30 o'clock, and the first stop was made at the Englewood mine, six miles north of Massillon, which is operated by the Ridgway Burton Company. This mine is one of the largest in the district, and its equipment includes a cable line, which extends underground for a distance of one mile. Arrangements had been made by the company to comfortably conduct one hundred of the visitors through the mine at one time, including a ride over the cable line and visits to rooms where miners were working.

It was Mr. Burton's suggestion that but one party should be escorted through the Englewood mine in order to avoid an unnecesary delay which might prevent the dealers from visiting mines of other companies, which they were desirous of inspecting. Consequently on the return of the first delegation from the Englewood mine the train proceeded on its way until the tour of the mines selected had been completed, which was not until late in the afternoon. The Woodland mine operated by the Wainwright Company, and the Krause Company's Stanwood mine were next visited, and the train was then transferred to the W. & L. E. railway in this city and proceeded to the Pocock, Howells and Mullins mines, three of the prime colliers of the district.

In each the operation was explained and coal mined and screened much to the enjoyment of the visitors. At each of the mines visited, members of the companies operating the same greeted the Clevelanders, and representatives of each company accompanied the party from Cleveland. A dining car was attached to the train, and every provision was made by the operators for the comfort of their guests. The committee having charge of the arrangements was composed of Captain Drake, J. J. Phillips and Charles Albright.

BIG RAILROAD COMBINE.

The Affairs of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling in Good Shape.

Owners of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling are much gratified at the way business is developing on the line. When they secured control the road was in wretched shape, and its patronage had consequently seriously fallen off, but its equipment has since been brought up to the standard, with gratifying results. The earnings for May were $118,838, an increase of $13,700 over the same month last year. It is said that as soon as the reorganization of the Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Columbus, Hocking Valley & Toledo railroads has been completed, the union of these lines with the Toledo & Ohio Central and the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling will be made public. This union is part of the plans which ex-Senator Brice has been developing for some time.—Cleveland Leader.

NO IMPORTANT CHANGES.

Present Corps of Teachers Re-engaged by the Board.

The board of education met in regular session Friday evening. Besides paying the bills the only important business transacted was the adoption of the report of the committee on teachers. This recommended that the present entire force be re-employed, some few changes in salaries being suggested.

OBITUARY NOTICE.

WILLIAM J. RUTTER.

William J. Rutter, aged 40 years, died on Tuesday at his residence in River avenue, Esplenborough, a suburb of Pittsburg. His wife is a daughter of Mrs. Reuben Roush, who resides three miles east of the city.

SPANISH WARSHIPS

Are Reported to Have Been Seen Off the Coast of Virginia.

STARS AND STRIPES IN CUBA.

The Insurgents are Fighting for the Possession of Manila—No Opposition to the Landing of Troops in the Eastern End of Cuba—Spain Wants Peace, but Will Not Pay an Indemnity—Another Spanish Ship Capturered—European Powers are Talking About Mediation.

The Stars and Stripes in Cuba.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 11—3 p. m.—[By Associated Press]—News was received here today that a force of American marines had landed at Guantonamo bay, taken possession of the forts and batteries which were dismantled by the bombardment last Tuesday, and the stars and stripes are now flying from the Spanish flagstaff.

Fighting at Manila.

NEW YORK, June 11.—[By Associated Press]—A special from Hongkong says that a fierce battle for the possession of Manila is in progress today between the Spanish garrison and the insurgent forces under Aguinaldo. Admiral Dewey will use all the forces at his command to prevent a massacre should the insurgents capture the city. The Spanish captain general has been notified that unless he withdraws the proclamation putting a price on the head of Chief Aguinaldo he will get no quarter.

A Spanish Merchantman Captured.

KINGSTON June 11.—[By Associated Press]—The auxiliary cruiser St. Louis was sighted today, and reported that she had captured a Spanish merchant vessel. The vessel had left this port but a few hours before.

The Spaniards Are Dazed.

MADRID, June 11.—[Special to Pittsburg Dispatch]—Gloom pervades every part of Spain where the situation in Manila is known. The government is so much alarmed that it has taken extraordinary military and police precautions, both in the capital and in the provinces. It held back telegrams to the provincial and foreign press eight hours in order to let the official messages break the news. Numerous prominent Republican agitators and journalists have been arrested, while others are closely watched by detectives. The troops are confined in the barracks, where half of the officers sleep every night, ready to act if a revolution is started. But a revolution is hardly considered likely, as the lower and middle classes are dazed, bewildered, disgusted and weary. They accuse the government, the press and their rulers with having deceived them. It is an open secret, and has been for some time, that everybody, from the court and ministers down to the Conservative statesmen and generals, has been playing a part, for the opposition as well as the ministerialists knew that Spain would have to give in after crushing defeats and appeal to the powers to mediate. The Queen Regent and her mother, the Archduchess Elizabeth of Austria, who is staying in Madrid, appealed to the Emperor of Austria and to the Pope on hearing from Manila, praying for mediation. The Spanish ambassadors at European courts have been instructed to exert every influence to induce the powers to interfere.

Spain Wants to Quit, but Won't Settle.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—[By Associated Press]—It is believed here that Spain will shortly make propositions for a settlement of the war, on the basis of the return of Porto Rico and the Philippines and the independence of Cuba, but will pay no indemnity. President McKinley will refuse to consider any such proposition until American troops are firmly established in Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and is determined that Spain shall pay an indemnity that will cover the entire expense of the war.

No Bad News From Cervera.

LONDON, June 11.—[By Associated Press]—The correspondent of the Daily News at Madrid says that the attacks on the government by the newspapers are made in order to prepare the public for the catastrophe and to exhaust its anger. Probably Admiral Cervera has been instructed not to telegraph bad news. It is doubtful whether Admiral Camara will go to the Philippines. His squadron is a mere remnant, but it may put to sea in order to allay nervous excitement.

Germany Sends Another Warship.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—[By Associated Press]—Dispatches have been received here, announcing that Germany has sent another warship to Manila, where she already has three. The communications between this government and the German minister have been quite formal of late, and matters in dispute will have to be gently handled to avoid a rupture.

A DEEP, DARK MYSTERY.

No Light Thrown on the Strasburg Sensation.

DID THEY SEEK BURIED TREASURE?

The Important News of the Roundabout Towns—Campers at McDonaldsville, Picnickers at Navarre, and an Undergraduates' Entertainment at Fulton.

STRASBURG, June 9.—The mystery is as impenetrable as ever. Nothing has been heard from Samuel Reese or Hetty Exline. Nearly everyone has a theory to advance, and there are all kinds of rumors. Some are loth to believe that the men Frank Hartline found at work in his cornfield the other night were digging a grave, and declare that they must have been seeking buried treasure. All agree, however, that they were there for no good, else why did they make away in such haste when Hartline came upon them?

There has been a story in circulation here for years that somewhere under the soil of Hartline's cornfield there is a box filled with valuables, supposed to have been buried there at some remote period of the past by an old miser, who has long since gone to his reward. All that is between the supposition that Reese and Miss Exline were murdered and general acceptance, is a motive that anyone could have for the commission of the crime.

The Tuscarawas county Sunday school convention was held at this place on Tuesday and Wednesday. About four hundred persons were in attendance. Prof. Maurer, of New Philadelphia, and Mr. Van Fleck, of Gnadenhutten, were elected president and secretary, respectively

WILL COME TO MASSILLON.

NAVARRE, June 10.—Navarre is not going to have much of a Fourth of July celebration itself, and therefore, it clings to the hope that Massillon will provide all that it will lack. The town will go to Massillon en masse if the attraction is half what Mayor Wise wants it to be.

MONDAY, JUNE 13, 1898.

Admiral Cervera y Topete has been much commended during the past few days for his courteous and generous treatment of Lieutenant Hobson and his men. To be sure he has extended to them the hospitalities of Morro Castle, but as this would naturally be the first point for our squadron to attack, its attractions as a haven of rest would appear to be somewhat questionable.

Optimistic expressions of faith that Spain will sue for peace when the American forces gain a victory at Santiago are not justified by the attitude of determination, in the face of adverse circumstances, which she has shown throughout the war. Spain's pride centers in her army, and until there has been some big battle resulting in the defeat of the Spanish troops there will be no signs of weakening at Madrid.

During the sixty days ending June 1, locomotive builders in the United States have received orders from abroad for one hundred and seventy-two locomotives—the Baldwin works alone having booked one hundred and seven Eighty-three will go to China, forty-three to Japan, seventeen to Russia, six to Spain, ten to New Zealand, and the rest to Egypt, Mexico, Brazil, and other countries.

If the United States is to hold the Philippine islands, it is certainly plain that Hawaii should belong to this country, not only for political reasons, but for the purpose of naval and military strategy. The President's anxiety over the delayed action of congress is apparent to all, and the report that he may send a message on the Hawaiian question does not appear to be unfounded. One thing seems certain, and that is that if congress does not provide for annexation, the government will seize the islands as a military measure.

Just at present the successes of the Philippine insurgents under Aguinaldo threaten to present new problems for this government to solve. No definite policy for the future of the islands has been arranged beyond the desire of retaining them for the purpose of making Spain pay indemnity for the cost of the war, but we do not propose to give them up to the insurgents if the latter succeed in overpowering the Spanish forces. Should the Philippine insurgents set up a government of their own at Manila, the Washington administration might find it difficult to justify further possession of the islands. Aguinaldo's proclamation, reciting a purpose to set up a republican form of government under the protection of the United States does not meet with approbation at Washington, and the situation is serious enough to excite considerable apprehension.

Lieutenant Carranza's name, coming up in connection with the information bureau scandal, recalls that gentleman's admirable explanation of why Spain should not be held responsible for the Maine disaster. "Because we, (the Spanish officers) have at Havana many torpedoes capable of destroying even larger vessels than the Maine," said Lieutenant Carranza, "it cannot be asserted without further proof that we have employed one of them against the United States warship. No military officers would commit such a crime, and should any government be guilty of contemplating such a hideous deed, it would seek the hand of an adventurer, but would never attempt to employ one of its military officers." Thus did Admiral Carranza confirm the opinion of the Senate that the type of torpedo used was not obtainable by outside parties, and in addition outlined the method of avoiding responsibility by "seeking the hand of an adventurer."

PRONOUNCE IT "SLY."

To the Editor of THE INDEPENDENT:

I see in your columns the declaration of a contributor to the effect that proper pronunciation of the family name of Commodore Schley is as if spelled S-l-a, with the sound of a as in day. This is not a matter of absorbing importance, but may as well be settled now as later. The writer has been more or less intimately acquainted with the Schley family for more than thirty years, and can testify that the universal pronunciation of the name by members of the family is as if spelled S-l-y. It appears to me that the custom of the members of the family should be conclusive with the public. It is probable that the family is of Dutch origin, but if so, they have long since dropped the distinctively Dutch pronunciation of the name.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Now that the executors of the Harsh estate and the trustees of the McClymonda Public Library have reached an understanding, the public is anxiously waiting for the city council to do its part toward the maintenance of the institution, that the citizens may speedily enjoy the benefits of the gift which has been bestowed upon them. It is expected that the council will be not less desirous than the public to bring about this result, in order that those for whom the gift was intended may realize the great good which is sure to come to them therefrom. In the meantime, it would be well to give grateful consideration to those who have worked unselfishly for the interests of the library, desiring no reward except the appreciation of those for whom they have labored. To many their undertaking may have seemed a pleasant pastime, but to bring the library to a successful opening will have required actual hard work in addition to knowledge and experience in various matters, among them the adopting of the building to its present purpose, with the arrangements for shelving, and the judicious selection and purchase of books.

MORE DECISIVE WORK NEEDED.

The news that an army of invasion has at last started for Cuba will be welcomed by all—even by those who have been most charitable in excusing what many denounced as the dilatory and undecided methods of the administration. The desire of the people for a short and decisive war, and the belief that such a war could be waged, was not unreasonable. In congress, representatives and senators clamored for an early movement of the armed forces of the United States, nearly three months ago voted fifty millions of dollars to be given to the President for use at his discretion, to avoid delays, and today not half the number of men required to meet the army of Spain in Cuba are equipped. The statement of Secretary Alger, in August, 1897, that "in thirty days we could put millions of men in the field, and back them up with a wall of fire in the persons of the veterans," was generally believed at the time, but we know better now. No one will dispute the fact that our soldiers were untrained, neither will anyone, who has read the hundreds of published accounts of the character and condition of the Spanish troops in Cuba, doubt that the soldiers of this country were fit at any time since the declaration of war to meet them successfully. And while we have been waiting to drill our men and equip them, Spain has been doing the same with her troops, strengthening her forts and building new ones. Dewey received orders to destroy the Spanish fleet in Asiatic waters, and did it in a highly satisfactory manner. No provision was made, at the time this order was given, to send him assistance in case he failed, or if successful to hold what he had gained, and some time yet will elapse before supplies and reinforcements reach him. Our fleets around Cuba, of which we have reason to be proud, have at times "indulged in a little target practice," as a prominent naval officer expressed it, but the damage they did in a two hours' bombardment was repaired in a day or two, and the work will all have to be done over again. Now that the army of invasion has started, it is to hoped something definite will soon be accomplished—for Spain will have to be whipped before she gives up.

MOTHER'S MISTAKE.

Massillon Mothers Make It But with a Little Light There Need Be None.

How carefully mother guards the secrets of her boys and girls. At night as she carefully tucks the bed clothes around them she chides and warns that mother will be angry if they repeat last night's offense, softly saying to herself, it is only a habit but I must break them of it. This is mother's mistake. The children cannot help it and sweet clean dry beds can be the resting place of every child when it is understood that the cause is not a habit but a weakness that can be cured. Active life of the little ones tends to weaking the kidneys and weak kidneys means inability to retain the urine. This is a condition not a habit and should have the same prompt attention you would give to the marked symptoms of any disease. One Doan's Kidney Pill taken twice a day and at bed time will strengthen the kidneys of a child and soon there will be no cause to scold for the so-called habit will promptly disappear. Here's a grateful mother that adds her endorsement to our words: Mrs. Wm. McBride, 282 W. Bloom St., Mansfield, Ohio, says: "My little boy when he was eight weeks old, was attacked with rheumatism. He recovered from the immediate effects of it, but ever since he has had weak kidneys. This has given us a great deal of trouble both during the night and the day on account of the inability to retain the urine. It apparently had the effect of making him feel poorly, for his appetite flagged and he did not thrive. We were anxious to get something which might him, so when we noticed more than one account of Doan's Kidney Pills curing such cases we got him a box. We gave him one pill at a time and were very much pleased that he was taking a turn for the better and showed steady improvement. Under the influence of the power of retention come back. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for this distressing weakness in children."

Fisher, of Monroeville, secretary, and the Rev. W. A. Walter, treasurer. In addition to the officers named, the Rev. J. THE LUTHERAN CONVENTION.

Closing Exercises Conducted Thursday Morning.

The convention of the Lutheran Sunday schools of Stark and Carroll counties conducted at St. Jacob's church in Jackson township progressed most successfully and the sessions were largely attended and many Massillonians drove to the church Wednesday afternoon and evening. At noon today the convention closed.

The Rev. W. E. Arnholt spoke on "More System in the Sunday School;" Miss Sarah Long discussed the qualifications of a Sunday school teacher and a discussion followed between Urias Fink and Miss Anna Nill. The topic of Prof. J. E. Finefrock's address was "Infant Recitation." The programme for this morning was as follows: "Should All Sunday Schools Use the Uniform Text Books," Miss Emma Byder: discussion, G. F. Tressel and J. W. Leibold; valedictory, the Rev. J. F. A. Lautenschlager.

A MILITARY NECESSITY.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—[By Associated Press]—Representative Hitt began the Hawaiian debate in the House, favoring annexation. He said the possession of the island was of great importance, and said that no fleet could come from the Asiatic coast to operate against our western coast without touching at Hawaii for coal and supplies.

ORDER RESTORED.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 11.—[By Associated Press]—Governor Bradley received a dispatch today from Assistant Adjutant General Forester, stating that everything was quiet at Manchester, and that the troops were able to preserve order.

NEWS FROM THE ST. LOUIS.

The St. Louis has arrived off the coast of Jamaica. The navy department would not reveal what dispatches were received from her, but there is reason for the assumption that they related to nothing more important than a notice from Sampson as to what ships had been detached to convoy troops, and the announcement of the capture of a prize by the St. Louis.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The French Theory of National Defense.

ONE VERY UNPOPULAR AMERICAN

Young Leiter is Spoken of in Scathing Terms as "the Man Who is Starving Europe"—Street Cleaning Methods Employed in Marseilles.

MARSEILLES, June 1.—I confess that a few months' residence in a country where, with all its imperfections, an unsurpassed patriotism exists, has somewhat reconciled me to the French theory of national defence. Nearly every morning I hear the military band leading the troops from the "caserne" nearby, and see from one to a dozen regiments going out to manœuvre or drill, followed by a population that idolizes its soldiery, and the sight is inspiring. With the French, service in the army is a duty to country, and not a profession or trade. When, a few days ago, a local paper printed the pay list of the United States army, people were amazed. Fourteen dollars a month does not seem much in the United States, but over here seventy francs a month and steady work means luxury and a sum laid by for a rainy day, and consequently there was a rush of applicants for enlistment, who could not, of course be accommodated.

"I suppose," said a French officer to me afterward, "that it is different with you. You have in times of peace a small standing army as a sort of police guard and you have to pay the men well. Here the circumstances are changed. Our theory is that preparation for war is security for peace. Consequently, we educate our boys to be soldiers. We contend that the country which protects the individual has a claim to something in return. We claim the right to a portion of his time, practically without pay, for the French soldier's compensation is very trifling. We claim among the advantages of this service that it teaches our young fellows to respect their country as a tangible entity; that it gives us at all times a reliable safeguard, and that it gives to the individual a moral and physical education that will be useful to him for all time to come"—a point that is most important, as thought will prove.

As the law in France stands today, every Frenchman owes his country three years of active army service. This does not mean more or less drilling at home by officers of his own choice, but military service wherever he is needed in France or out of it. Certain exceptions are made in favor of those who have dependent parents or relatives, and some others, but broadly speaking, there are no exceptions. It follows that the French army at this moment has a numerical strength of 557,000 men. It is composed of young fellows not quite so tall as our own, perhaps, but strong and hardy in appearance and ready to retire into the ordinary walks of life after their military apprenticeship. Under this arrangement, which has continued for years, practically every able bodied Frenchman is competent to serve in time of war, the effective force of the army on a war footing being 4,961,000 men.

The cost of keeping up this army was, last year, 622,551,397 francs or about $122,510,279. During the same year there was spent for our American army of 27,532 men an appropriation of $23-129,344 Now the army of France is something over twenty times the size of our army of 1897, and anybody can figure it out that had the French army been paid on the basis of the American military establishment it would have cost last year $462,586,880 instead of the much smaller sum of $122,510,279. This in a measure explains why it is possible for the French government to maintain a force the strength of which staggers a stranger on first contemplation.

No true American would care to pretend that the pay of the American soldier is too high. Assuredly it is a mere pittance when put in the scale alongside the sense of duty and love of country which prompts him to volunteer. But if we adopted some new system of military service, incumbent alike upon rich and poor, high and low, it is something to consider whether the Frenchman was not right when he said: "We contend that the country which protects the individual has a claim to something in return." We are not ready, probably, to follow European custom in matters of this sort, but with some grave problems ahead of us and a large army in the field, it is just as well to know and think about what is being done elsewhere along this line.

The jaunty tone assumed by many of the French papers in discussing somewhat unkindly the American situation appears to be subsiding. A pressure of some sort is doubtless felt by the writers of the press, many of whom admit that they may have seen as through a glass darkly. The truth more likely is that a large part of the population has no sympathy with any anti-American agitation, and responds to the government's attitude of neutrality. There is, however one American citizen who is very unpopular on this side of the water. His name is Leiter. Of this young man one paper says: "He has locked up at Chicago all the crop of grain in the far West. He has declared that he has not the least scruple, and that if Europe is hungry, what is it to him—he is neither an Italian or a Spaniard, nor anything but an American, and as long as America eats, this astonishing personage declares that is enough. He pretends that since nine months all the available wheat has been bought and that the farmers of America have profited by the rise; that is to say, that Leiter and his accomplices have known for nine months that America and Spain would go to war." He is called "the man who is starving Europe."

Somebody has written to me to inquire whether Marseilles is not a very dirty city. Well, views differ—I came from Ohio. In years gone by very likely it was. I was once told that every corner had its own distinct odor and that advice as to which section of the town was best to live in depended upon individual taste in smell. They sweep all the streets regularly. There is a "cantonnier" for every half mile or so, who works constantly, sweeping, and once a week, at least, flooding his section with water. All the refuse goes into the sewers. These sewers are less than three years old and are the most perfect in Europe. The main trunk is sixteen feet in diameter, boats ply up and down its length, it is lighted and ventilated, passes under the city, through a mountain of solid rock, and discharges its contents into the sea where the current is such as to take them off. Into these sewers is emptied the waste matter of the city, garbage, street sweepings and all. As part of the town is high and part low, the drainage of the lower part is towards a given spot, and there the circulation is kept up by means of huge pumps which elevate the contents of the low sewers. The death rate per thousand has declined 8½ per cent. since the completion of this system.

It is gratifying to know over in this far-away land that though Company F of pleasant memory exists no more as a Massillon institution, there is nevertheless a squad of Massillon boys under the flag giving honorable and loyal service to their country. In the sixties no community in Ohio did its share more willingly than the old town, and though men are not now needed as they were then, it is safe to say that if required they would not be wanting. R. P. S.

AT THE OLD SHULL TAVERN.

A Pleasant Day Spent by a Canton-Massillon Party.

A party of Massillon and Canton people spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nettleton, at the old Shull tavern near Osnaburg—a landmark well known in this part of the country. One of the party has kindly contributed the following account of the visit;

Half way between Paris and Osnaburg, or about eight miles east of Canton, stands the famous old Shull farm. Here in 1806, or 92 years ago, Henry Shull cleared the woods for a homestead, building his own sawmill for the timber and burning his own brick to use in the construction of his home, which has always been occupied by some member of the Shull family. There it stands now, and as staunch as ever, with its large rooms and wide halls, and two verandas, one above and one below the entire length of the front of the house, the verandas ornamented with an old climbing rose; its chimneys and sides almost hidden by the wild grape vine.

It was the pleasure of a party of friends from both Canton and Massillon to be bidden to enjoy the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nettleton, who now occupy this old place, Mrs. Nettleton having inherited it from a relative, well and familiarly known as "Aunt Betsy Shull"—the occasion being a surprise to Mr. Nettleton in honor of his birthday anniversary, June 9. After offering congratulations, and after a hearty welcome, all naturally began to wander through the rooms. The most interesting was the room containing the antiquities, which, in the days it saw active service as a tavern, was office, cloak room and bar room. Here one might spend a month in study and research and be unwilling to leave the various articles which carry one back to ye olden days.

At one end of this room is a high poster bed of mahogany, with draperies and valance of white linen and fringe, a coverlet or quilt of white blocked with blue and red, bearing the date 1844. Underneath are two immense feather beds, making it necessary to have a stepladder to mount and disappear, and, as it would seem, a derrick with which to be brought to the surface in the morning. Then there is the great fireplace with its logs of wood in readiness for a cool day, and its accompaniments of pots and kettles. The mantel above was filled with old kitchen utensils, candle moulds, etc. In other corners were spinning wheels of different designs, an old bureau with glass knobs, cupboards containing many unique and much coveted pieces of china, an old musket over the door, old chairs and tables, and many books, such as almanacs, schoolbooks, and bibles in both German and English text, yellow and brown with age. Among these and of particular interest was an almanac, "Der Volksfreund und Hagerstaumer Calendar," date 1809

At noon dinner was served in this room in ye olden style, and the service in keeping with the times. The tablecloths were of linen raised and spun on the farm, dishes of many odd colorings and designs of English and Dutch ware, among these being a tea set belonging to Mrs. Nettleton's grandmother, nearly a hundred years old, a quaint design of brown ware somewhat resembling our modern Rookwood, also a blue and white plate decorated with the names of the states and a picture of Mt. Vernon.

Merry makings ran high all the afternoon, until again the guests, like happy grown up children, were bidden to the evening meal, which was served in the family dining room in our modern manner, with tables resplendent in beautiful linen, china and glass. All too soon came the time called "candlelight," and regretfully the goobyes were said.

Those who were fortunate enough to be present were: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Humberger, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bayliss, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Willison, Jamie Willison, Mrs. Agnes Jones, Mrs. Warren Myers, Henry Ryder, Mrs. Eleanor McLain, Miss Helen McLain, Miss Karthaus and Miss Minnie Kiihn. From Canton, Mrs. Justine Cook, Miss Jeanette Alexander and Drs. Morrow and Lander.

TOWN SHELLED.

Spanish Advices Say Baiquiri Was Bombarded.

NAVY AWAITS THE ARMY.

The Ships Have Battered Down Fortifications, Preparatory to Invasion.

MAY FORCE SANTIAGO CHANNEL.

Believed That the Landing of the Troops Will Be Followed by an Entrance, to Compel Admiral Cervera to Make a Stand—Guantanamo Under Control of the Fleet and the Landing of Marines at That Point Is Expected to Occur Simultaneously With the Landing of Troops at Santiago.

HAVANA, June 11.—Several American warships bombarded Baiquiri, some distance east of Aguadores and near the railway line to Santiago de Cuba, yesterday.

Official advices from Santiago say that the bombardment "caused no damage."

Baiquiri is a mining locality, and some of the mines are under American control.

At the palace it is denied that there was any bombardment of the Santiago fortifications yesterday.

ON BOARD DISPATCH BOAT WANDA, OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA, June 9, via Kingston, Jamaico, June 11.—It is believed the navy will follow the landing of troops by forcing the passage of the narrow channel leading to the harbor of Santiago de Cuba, fishing up the sunken mines and compelling Admiral Cervera to make a stand.

If the destruction of the Spanish fleet is successfully carried out it will end the last vestige of Spanish dominion in Eastern Cuba. The harbor of Guantanamo is completely under the control of the American fleet and the landing of marines at that point is expected to occur simultaneously with the landing of troops at Santiago de Cuba.

ON BOARD THE DISPATCH BOAT WANDA, Off Santiago de Cuba, June 9, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 11.—The navy awaits the army.

The fighting ships of Rear Admiral Sampson and Commodore Schley have battered down the coast defenses of Southern Cuba and have sealed up Admiral Cervera's fleet in the harbor of Santiago de Cuba by sinking the collier Merrimac in the channel at its entrance, which the guns of the fleet cover unceasingly. Scout boats, running under the shadows of El Morro, have cut the Haitien cable and now hold 35 miles of the coast east of Santiago de Cuba, including Guantanamo harbor. Under the cover of the guns of the fleet Eastern Cuba may be safely invested by land and sea, Admiral Cervera's fleet annihilated and the entire province and its towns and harbors seized and held after a short campaign.

The harbor of Guantanamo is a fine base for land and sea operations. The harbor is capacious and has 40 feet of water. The land approaches are not so precipitious as at Santiago de Cuba. The low lying hills can be easily crossed with trains of siege guns, and there are level roads to Santiago, 33 miles distant, where a few mountain batteries, beyond the reach of the fleet, will be taken to an eminence commanding the city and the Spanish ships.

Guantanamo is an important place. It has six miles of water harbor and will be of great value to the United States as a navy and army supply station, coaling depot and cable terminus.

The Spaniards made but slight defense. Their batteries were silenced on Tuesday by the Marblehead in a few minutes' firing at 4,000 yards. A small Spanish gunboat ran into the inner harbor.

The Oregon, Marblehead and Yankee hold the harbor waiting to land marines.

The navy's work has been done well. Daily and nightly ships patrol the 30 miles of coast, within easy gun range of the shore.

This morning the New York, New Orleans and Porter were close in shore off Baiquiri, east of Santiago, where there are extensive ironworks. A large iron pier offers an excellent landing place. Possibly one detachment of troops will land there, another force may land west of El Morro and a third body of troops may land at Guantanamo.

SPANISH PREPARING.

May Make a Desperate Resistance—Boat From United States Fleet Lands Arms For Insurgents.

ON BOARD THE DISPATCH BOAT WANDA, Off Santiago de Cuba, June 9, via Kingston, Jamaica, June 11.—In Santiago de Cuba there are now about 20,000 Spanish soldiers, chiefly infantry, with a fair contingent of cavalry and field artillery drawn from the surrounding country.

There have been signs indicating that the Spaniards are preparing a desperate resistance.

The insurgents, about 5,000 strong, have taken a position on a mountain to the westward. Two thousand insurgents of this gathering are unarmed. General Maximo Gomez, now about 150 miles inland, is making his way toward the coast. Admiral Sampson is actively co-operating with the insurgents.

The Vixen landed 300,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, 300 Springfield rifles, 100 carbines, 2,000 machetes, with equipments and provisions. These were handed over yesterday (Wednesday) about 15 miles west of Santiago to some 800 insurgents who came down to the beach, the main body remaining in the mountains.

The Cubans were hard up for supplies and ammunition and were overjoyed at the sight of the Suwanee's cargo. Some, almost ravenous, hacked at the slices of bacon and ate raw beef. They had been living on limes, cocoanuts and sweet potatoes. Ensign Gilpin of the Suwanee went ashore and accompanied the Cubans to their temporary camp inland, where he found ten or a dozen wounded men badly in need of surgical attendance. Bandages for them were sent from the Suwanee.

Ensign Gilpin said in part:

"I found the insurgents a rough looking and mixed lot of boys and old men, rigged out any way, carrying arms of all sorts, and all anxious to borrow everything I had, from my blouse to my revolver. Four Spanish soldiers in uniform, carrying rifles, marched into the camp while I was there and said they wanted to join the insurgents."

Conservative authorities believe the United States troops will have to carry out their plan of campaign without placing much reliance upon the insurgents. Several plucky young officers, like Ensign Gilpin, have made trips ashore and taken observations of the interior harbor and the fortifications, seeing Admiral Cervera's four ships.

SPANISH WARSHIPS OFF ATLANTIC COAST.

Battleship, Two Cruisers and Torpedoboat Reported to Have Been Sighted Off Fort Monroe.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 11.—A dispatch received from Fort Monroe says:

"Intense excitement was caused at Fort Monroe last night shortly after 9 o'clock by a dispatch received from the signal station at Cape Henry, stating that Spanish warships were lurking in that vicinity.

"A short while later a message was received from Washington instructing the commandant of the fort to be on the alert.

"Reports as to the number of ships seen conflict. A lieutenant, who was seen after midnight, said he had been informed that a Spanish battleship, two cruisers and a torpedoboat had been caught under the searchlight of Cape Henry steaming from a northerly direction.

"As soon as it was reported that the enemy's warships had been sighted there was great activity at the fort. The big searchlight began to sweep the bay and signals were flashed to the cruiser Minneapolis, auxiliary cruiser Dixie and dynamite cruiser Buffalo, which are anchored off Old Point. Quarters were sounded and the crews hastily prepared the ships for action.

"The gunners took positions at their posts, where they were ordered to remain during the night. The ship's searchlights were kept playing on the waters.

"In the fort ammunition was hurried to the big guns and the troops ordered to their posts. Some of the officers were with their families at the hotels and buglers were dispatched for them.

"The men scurried out of the hotels half dressed and hastened to the fort. In the camp of the Maryland troops' orders were given for the men to sleep in their clothes with their guns close by."

A dispatch that came from Washington stating that one of the vessels seen was probably a German freighter, had a tendency to allay the excitement among the guests at the hotels, but the officers did not relax their vigilance.

A PROTEST FROM JAPAN.

Don't Like the Tea Tax Feature of War Revenue Bill.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Japan has entered a strong protest against the duty on tea provided for in the war revenue bill. The protest was sent to the state department and by it forwarded to the conference committee. The protest is based on the ground that a uniform duty of 10 cents a pound on all teas, cheap or dear, will have the effect of ruining Japan's tea trade with the United States.

Japan, it says, would not object to a duty graded according to value. The protest was submitted as a result of instructions sent from the Japanese foreign office.

Red Cross Auxiliary.

PITTSBURG, June 11.—A meeting of the First Pennsylvania Red Cross auxiliary of Pittsburg was held in the rooms of the chamber of commerce Thursday. The secretary was instructed to notify the New York society that the Pittsburg auxiliary would be willing to furnish a sterilizing plant and 500 pajamas to begin with. Another meeting of the society will be called soon.

Fatal Fight With Trainrobbers.

DALLAS, June 11.—Reports were received by the Santa Fe officers in Dallas yesterday that four trainrobbers attempted to hold up an express train on the Lampas division Thursday night. A fight ensued between the trainmen and the bandits, in which one of the latter was shot and Fireman Johnson was killed. The Santa Fe officials declare the robbers got no money

DYNAMITE WAS EXPLODED.

Two Men Killed Testing Appliances to Explode Government Mines.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 11.—An explosion of dynamite occurred at St. John's bluff, near the mouth of St. John river yesterday, killing two men, John J. O'Rourke and Edward Houston and seriously injuring Lieutenant Hart, U. S. A.

O'Rourke was foreman of the Western Union Telegraph company in this city and Houston was in the employ of the government. The two men were in a small building on the bluff testing some electrical appliances to be used for exploding the mines in the river. In some manner the wires became crossed and the dynamite was exploded.

Reported Condition of Wheat.

WASHINGTON, June 11. — Winter wheat, 90.8 condition; spring wheat, acreage 43,000,000, 3,500,000 acres greater than last year; spring wheat, 100.9, as compared with 89.6 on June 1, 1897. This is made public in the agricultural department's report.

INVADING ARMY.

Care Being Taken to Move It With Little Risk.

16 WARSHIPS AS CONVOY.

The Naval Fleet Headed by the Battleship Indiana.

ABOUT 50 TRANSPORTS TO BE USED

The Ships Carrying the Soldiers and the War Vessels Expected to Make a Formidable Marine Procession—The Expedition Could Have Left Over a Week Ago, but the Rumor of Spanish Ships In the North Atlantic Caused Delay. Authorities Refused to State the Time of Leaving Port.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Out of the maze of doubt and contradiction as to the dispatch of the first army of invasion to Cuba one thing stands out clearly, namely, that the government, feeling strong in its present position and plan, is moving cautiously and with the deliberation which it believes will secure success unattended with disasters. With this main purpose in view the army and navy are co-operating toward the dispatch of the troops, some 25,000 in number, under escort of a strong fleet of naval convoys made up up of 16 warships, headed by the battleship Indiana. Unattended by this strong fleet the troops might have left yesterday a week ago, when one strong naval convoy was ready for this service. Since then, however, reports have come as to the presence of Spanish ships in the North Atlantic.

Realizing that nothing was to be gained by haste and that the war was progressing steadily towards success, it was determined not to take the one small chance of having our troop transports menaced by some scouting ship of the enemy. As a result the troop transports have not proceeded to Cuba. They are in readiness to go, but will not move until the naval convoy is ready to accompany them, assuring safe conduct from Florida to the point of destination.

The war department positively declines to say when the forces will move, and there is authority for the statement that any reports purporting to give the hour or day when this formidable flotilla of invasion will start is not only unwarranted, but meets with the most vigorous official condemnation. The administration feels that the time has come when it is of utmost importance that the precise movements of this invading fleet should not be published in this country and thus heralded to the enemy

The completeness with which the transport of troops has been planned is shown in the official list of transport vessels given out at the war department yesterday. Of this list 34 large steamships, varying from 4,100 tons down to 600 tons, are at Florida ports ready to carry our troops to the point of invasion. There are some 15 other craft, including vessels suitable for conveying fresh water, stores, etc., and for lightering the troops and stores from the ships to the beach when the debarkation begins.

The entire transport fleet of about 50 steamships, augmented by the fleet of naval convoys, 16 in number, will make a formidable marine procession, exceeding in magnitude the notable spectacle of the naval review during the World's fair year.

NOT READY FOR PEACE.

Mr. Balfour's Reply as to Whether England Has Moved to Intervene In the War.

LONDON, June 11.—In the house of commons A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury and government leader, yesterday replying to a question as to whether, "in view of the condition of the population of Cuba and the sufferings and evils arising from the Spanish-American war, her majesty's government or any the European powers have any intention of intervening to secure a cessation of hostilities by inducing one or both belligerents to negotiate terms of peace," said:

"Her majesty's government will gladly take any favorable opportunity for promoting a cessation of hostilities and negotiations for peace, but any action on their part for this purpose can only be undertaken if there is reasonable prospect that it will be well received by both parties and of its being likely to lead to an agreement between them.

"Unfortunately there is not sufficient ground for believing this condition exists."

THE SPANIARDS MAY STAY.

It Would Require a Special Act to Expel Du Bosc and Carranza.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 11.—Statements sent out from Ottawa that the government had decided to deport Senor Du Bosc and Lieutenant Carranza, the alleged Spanish spies, lack foundation. It is conceded now in official circles after a careful examination of the law that the crown has not the power to expel them from the country.

The power is reserved to parliament, which brings it into play by a special act. If the two Spaniards have employed persons in Canada to act as spies in the United States they have violated the foreign enlistment act and are liable to prosecution under it. The government may intimate to them that if they remain they will be prosecuted. But the accused may elect if they so choose to remain and answer any charge brought against them in the courts.

Fed by Red Cross People.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The Fifty-first regiment of Iowa volunteers, numbering nearly 1,000 men, arrived here yesterday. The Red Cross society gave the new arrivals a hearty breakfast and fruit and flowers in abundance were distributed before the men started on the five mile march to Camp Merritt.

A WOMAN KILLED.

Fatal Electrical and Hail Storm at Canton and In the Vicinity.

CANTON, June 11.—For half an hour yesterday this section of the country was visited by the most terrific electrical and hail storm known in years. Wheat was literally hammered down and fruit trees stripped, entailing a loss which will amount to thousands of dollars. During the storm Mrs. Charles Northdurfter, residing one mile east of Canton, was instantly killed by lightning.

THE WHEELING AND LAKE ERIE.

Myron T. Herrick of the Opinion That Reorganization Will Go Through.

CLEVELAND, June 11.—Myron T. Herrick, one of the receivers of the Wheeling and Lake Erie Ralway company, in speaking of the proposed reorganization of that road, said:

"While I have no inside information in the matter, I am of the opinion that the reorganization plan will go through successfully and will likely go into effect by Jan. 1 next.

"I became a receiver for the road about 18 months ago, and since that time I have doubled its earning, cut its expenses in half, expended fully $1,000,000 in improvements and now there is a comfortable balance on the right side of the ledger."

SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

The American New Church Organization Met In Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, June 11.—The American New Church Sunday School association met yesterday. The annual address was delivered by the president, Rev. William H. Alden of Philadelphia, his subject being "Relation of the Home to the Sunday School." Reports were received from the committees. Officers were elected as follows:

Rev. W. L. Gladish of Indianapolis, president; Rev. J. M. Smith of Rocksbury, Mass., vice president; Rev. W H. Mayhew, Yarmouth, Mass., secretary and treasurer.

WAR BILL PASSED.

The Measure Went Through the Senate and Only Now Awaits Signatures.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The conference report on the war revenue bill was agreed to by the senate yesterday afternoon after a discussion lasting about four hours. The debate upon the measure was without special interest and was entirely devoid of acrimonious features. It was a foregone conclusion that the report would be agreed to, and the only question of interest involved was how soon a vote could be reached.

The debate indicated generally that the bill as agreed upon by the conference was reasonably satisfactory to everybody except as to the bond provision. The votes cast against the adoption of the report reflected the opinions of those senators who are opposed to any increase in the interest bearing debt of the country.

The report was agreed to by the decisive vote of 43 to 22. Every Republican voted for the measure, and their votes were supplemented by those of eight Democrats, one Silver Republican and one Independent. The Democrats who voted for the adoption of the report were Messrs. Caffery, Gorman, Lindsay, McEnery, Mitchell, Morgan, Murphy and Turpie, the Silver Republican was Mr. Mantle and the Independant was Mr. Kyle. The vote against the report was cast by 16 Democrats, three Silver Republicans and three Populists.

As soon as the engrossed bill can be signed by the presiding officers of the two branches of congress, it will be sent to the president.

Just at the close of the session last evening a bitter personal discussion was precipitated by Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.), who attacked Mr. Kyle for having voted for the issuance of bonds. Mr. Butler, speaking as the chairman of the Populist national committee, officially declared that Mr. Kyle did not represent the Populist party. Mr. Kyle replied warmly, saying that he was responsible for his political actions not to Mr. Butler, but to his conscience and to his constituents. Subsequently he denounced as "intentional and malicious falsehoods" some of the statements made about him by Mr. Pettigrew.

MISS LONG TO NURSE.

The Secretary's Daughter and Several Friends to Attend Wounded and Sick Sailors.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—A very substantial evidence of self-sacrifice for the sake of their country is afforded by the taking up of a military nurse's duties by the daughter of Secretary Long, Miss Margaret Long, with some of her chums at the Johns Hopkins Medical school of Baltimore. The young ladies who go with Miss Long are Dorothy Reid, Mabel Austin, daughter of ex-Governor Austin of Minnesota, and Mabel Simis. They have already reported to the naval hospital at Brooklyn to nurse the wounded and sick sailors who were sent up from Sampson's fleet on the Solace.

THREATEN SPANISH COAST.

This the Advice Given by an English Newspaper.

LONDON, June 11.—The St. James Gazette yesterday published a long editorial pointing out the hopelessness of any further Spanish resistance and suggests the Americans seek a settlement of the Cuban question in Spain. It says:

"There is no need of an invasion, but the mere presence of a strong armament which the Spanish navy could not drive off, on the coast, would produce a tremendous effect and there are numerous unfortified anchorages where the Americans could recoal with leisure.

"Of course there are powers in Europe who would witness the operation with great disgust, but if the Americans are going to be frightened by the vague abstraction called Europe they must be very timid. Let them consult the sultan and remember that England is their Russia for the time being."

MAY SAIL TODAY.

Troops Likely to Leave For the Philippines.

MR. MEIKLEJOHN SO SAID.

They May Be Followed by More Troops Next Week.

EXPECTED TO NUMBER 6,000.

With the Soldiers Will Be Taken a Large Quantity of Ammunition and Supplies—By the Fourth of July the Entire Expedition May Be Either Landed or In Readiness to Land Near Manila—The Monterey Put Into San Diego and Took on Coal—The Brutus Anchored Not Far Away.

WASHINGTON, June 11. — Assistant Secretary of War Meiklejohn said last night that it was probable the first part of the next expedition to the Philippines would leave San Francisco for Manila today. The transports which will convey the troops to Manila are Ohio, Indiana, Colon, Morgan City, China and Para. The expedition will consist of about 6,000 men, and with it will be taken a large quantity of ammunition and supplies.

The first part of the expedition, which is expected to leave today, will be followed early next week by the remainder, so that by the 4th of July the entire expedition may be either landed or in readiness to land near Manila.

THE MONTEREY AND BRUTUS.

The Former Came In For Coal and Water at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 11.—The U. S. S. Monterey and her coal consort, the Brutus, supposed to be speeding on their way toward Honolulu and Manila, were sighted at noon yesterday steaming south toward San Diego at a good rate of speed, the Monterey leading. They arrived off the harbor mouth and separated, the Brutus going about five miles south and anchoring near Coronado island, while the Monterey came in rapidly and dropped her anchor off the coal bunkers, and a great crowd being on the wharf to receive them. Paymaster Rogers stated briefly that they had simply come in here for coal and water and would sail this afternoon at high tide for Honolulu.

Officers stated that they met heavy weather the second day out and lost overboard 83 tons, which was secured in the netting on the Monterey's decks.

AGREED TO VOTE.

Hawaiian Annexation to Be Considered and Acted Upon In the House.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The feature of the session of the house yesterday was the securing of an agreement to consider and vote upon the Newlands resolution to annex Hawaii. Beginning today, the debate will proceed until 5 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon, when a vote will be taken. The annexationists came yesterday determined to force consideration and for three hours the opposition filibustered.

Consideration of the resolutions yesterday could have been prevented, as under the rules a recess until the evening pension session necessarily would have been taken at 5 o'clock, but it was plain that the annexationists would win their victory today. Realizing this, and knowing the resolutions would pass and go to the country involving an issue, the opposition treated for liberal debate, and their demands were granted readily. Eight Democrats voted with the annexationists in the movement yesterday to force consideration of the resolutions, they being Messrs. Berry (Ky.), Deveys (Cal.), Livingston (Ga.) Brucker (Mich.), Cummings, Sulzer and Vohslage (N. Y.) and Cochran (Mo.).

It is claimed at least 20 Democrats will favor the passage of the resolutions.

The bill to enable volunteer soldiers to vote at congressional elections was passed, and a number of minor measures, chiefly of a private nature, were considered.

HAWAIIAN ANNEXATION.

Senator Frye Hopes to Secure Action In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Senator Frye, who in the absence of Senator Davis, is acting as chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations, said yesterday that he would ask the senate to take up the Hawaiian annexation resolution as soon as it should pass the house. He thinks it will be possible to get the resolution up next Thursday and expresses the opinion that the senate can be held in session long enough to secure action.

The advocates of annexation appreciate that the contest they will have to make will be against the general desire to adjourn, which is great because of the weather and the fact that the session has already been somewhat prolonged. They have, however, looked the situation over carefully and express the opinion that a majority of the senators will agree to remain.

In this struggle they are counting advisedly upon the active co-operation of the president. It is possible that a message may be sent to congress urging action before adjournment, but this point has not yet been decided.

OUTBREAK OF YELLOW FEVER.

Steps Taken to Prevent an Epidemic In the South.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—There is some apprehension here over the outbreak of seven cases of yellow fever at McHenry, Miss., and steps have been taken not only to check the spread of the fever from McHenry, but to prevent any possibility of an epidemic in the south.

Moonlight on the sea. There are pictures and dreams and castles in the air for the woman who sits and gazes out over it. Pictures of a happy home, dreams of a manly husband, beautiful castles to be built by the loving hands of mutual helpfulness and filled with healthy, happy children.

Almost without exception these dreams might become realities if mothers would only teach their daughters the most common sense facts about their own physical make-up, and advise them how to protect themselves from the perils of the three critical periods of their lives—puberty or maturity, motherhood and the "turn of life" Women at these times suffer from irregularities and weaknesses which, if neglected, will develop into dangerous diseases and make their whole lives wretched.

The delicate organs that make wifehood and motherhood possible, cannot be neglected with impunity. If they are neglected the result is unhappy wifehood, and motherhood will be a menace of death. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing specific for all diseases of these organs It restores them to perfect health. It promotes regularity of their special functions. It fits for wifehood and motherhood It tones, invigorates and builds up the nerves that have been shattered by pain and suffering.

"For years my wife suffered from what the doctors called prolapsus of the uterus," writes Mr. Harry Chant, of 211 Haskell Street, Dallas, Texas "She was nervous, had cold hands and feet, palpitation, headache, backache, constipation, a disagreeable drain, bearing-down pains and no appetite She got so weak she could not get around I am only a laborer, and was always in debt to the doctors, and all for no good, as none of them did her any good She began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it seemed to work like a charm She has taken about thirteen bottles and is to-day as stout and healthy as any woman in the United States."

Instead of a letter, as was formerly the custom, Wheeling & Eake Erie employes when discharged or voluntarily leaving the service of the company, are given a certificate bearing the signature of the superintendent and giving the length of time the employe served the company and in what capacity. In case of a discharge the fact is embodied in the certificate, and the reasons given, therefore it is impossible for an employe to be discharged without his knowing the cause. This method has been adopted by a majority of the railway companies, and should an employe apply for work on any other road he is compelled to exhibit the certificate from the road on which he was last employed.

THE DEATH OF WILLIAM BOWMAN.

Particulars of the Accident Which Cost Him His Life.

Mr. Jacob Graze has received communications from Salinas, Cal., giving the particulars of the accident which resulted in the death of his father-in-law, William Bowman, on June 1. The following account is taken from the Salinas Index:

"At 9 o'clock Wednesday morning William Bowman, of the firm of Teague & Bowman, plumbers, met his death as the result of a fearful accident. At that hour Mr. Bowman placed a bundle of tin platings for the roof of the new McDougall block under his right arm and commenced to ascend a ladder to the second floor. He mounted carefully, having only just recovered from a long spell of sickness, and had got within three feet of the top, when, as he reached to catch hold of the end of the ladder, preparatory to getting upon the second floor, he was, it is thought, attacked with a sudden faintness and missed his hold. He toppled backwards, but the heavy load under his arm turned his body sidewise, and as he fell he struck on a small platform, scattering the tins promiscuously. The blow threw Mr. Bowman back, and as he again commenced to fall his head struck a plank run used by the men and he was pitched forward on his face, alighting on the joists on the ground floor. His fellow workmen and some bystanders picked Mr. Bowman up and conveyed him to the Eagle drug store, where physicians were soon in attendance. The unfortunate man was unconscious and gave one or two quick gasps. Artificial respiration was attempted, but to no avail, as at 9:15 he breathed his last. An examination hurriedly made disclosed that the left wrist had been broken and crushed and that the base of the skull had probably been fractured.

"Mr. Bowman was a pioneer of California, having come to this state in 1852 from Massillon, O., where he was born fifty nine years ago, with his brothers, Edward, Augustus and John Bowman. They resided in San Andreas, a prosperous mining camp in Calaveras county, until 1862, when they returned to their native place. In 1887 the deceased moved to Santa Cruz, where he resided until about three years ago, when he came to Salinas and was employed by the Vanderhurst Sanborn Company. About thirteen months ago he associated himself in business with John Teague, continuing with him till his sad death He was a member of Clinton Lodge No. 47, F. & A. M., of Massillon, O."

AT CAMP ALGER.

Too Hot in Camp for the Boys to Spend Their Money.

[From the Pittsburg Dispatch.]

CAMP ALGER, June 10.—Heat that seemed to blister through the clothing poured down upon the sweating troops here from soon after breakfast until nightfall. The dusty parade ground quivered before the dazed eyes of the drilling soldiers. There was scarcely a breath of air stirring, and when the commanding notes of the bugle did not call them out of the shade the boys lay gasping in their tents, too warm even to go out to spend their money. There has been some hot weather here, but the Second Army Corps will survive anything if it comes through many more days like this. The tents were even more unbearable than outside, as the half naked men lay and cursed each other as to whose turn it was to fetch water.

Orders were issued about noon for all the men to keep clean, to keep the sinks fresh with new earth hourly, and for none of the meat ration to be fried. Boiled or roasted meat is the only way in which the ration can be cooked. Officers were ordered to trade as much of the ration as possible and turn it into vegetables to keep the men healthy. The surgeon general saw that a few consecutive days like this will play havoc with the health of the men, and these orders were the result. In all this blazing weather Companies G, of Wadsworth, and M, of Mansfield, of the Eighth Ohio regiment, struck camp at Dunn Loring, and made the march to the regiment. The men came up through the dust with their blouses rolled on top of their knapsacks. When they reached the command they were actually brown with dust. The heat was such that sentries were permitted to walk post in their shirt sleeves. Even the thin, unlined blouses were too much, when buttoned up, for such weather.

The paymaster is still at work in the camp, and he gave out the glad information that the deferred pay from the state will be paid by Uncle Sam between the 13th and 25th of this month. The boys are elated, as this will bring four pay days with less than two weeks between each, counting from the first state pay. Along with their pay the East Liverpool company got two boxes of delicacies from the Woman's Relief Corps of that town. The Woman's Auxiliary Corps of Company K, of Alliance, also remembered their boys with two big boxes and a lot of reading matter.

Ten days' field rations have been issue to the three regiments of the Second brigade, First division, and everybody, from General Garrettson down to the smallest trumpeter, expects it will be the last the brigade will draw here. Major General Graham and his staff visited the various wells this morning and inspected those in course of construction. General Graham is not too well known to some of the recently arrived regiments, and in several instances the guard did not turn out for the cavalcade.

In the Eighth Ohio tomorrow night will be "sweethearts' and wives' night." The band, under Chief Musician Palmer, of Akron, will give a concert after dress parade. There have been the usual crowds all day around the few wells now working, as details are sent a mile and a half to the Second Brigade well to get water for cooking purposes. The ordinance stores are being rushed here, but as yet none are distributed.

SAMPSON'S REPORT.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—[By Associated Press]—The navy department makes public Rear Admiral Sampson's official report of the sinking of the Merrimac, in which he says Lieutenant Hobson took the liveliest interest in the problem of sinking a collier to obstruct the channel, and finally offered a plan, begging to be permitted to execute it with a crew of seven men The plan was adopted and Hobson and his crew sent. The admiral tells the story, already known, of the successful sinking of the Merrimac and the failure to return of Hobson and the crew, but adds that a flag of truce brought a letter from Admiral Cervera extolling the bravery of the crew in the highest terms. Sampson adds that Commander Miller of the Merrimac, relinquished the command with the greatest reluctance, and says that hundreds of men and officers begged to go with Hobson.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The United States weekly crop bulletin shows that weather conditions during the past week were very favorable for all growing crops and farm work, yet rain is needed in a few localities to moisten the surface of the ground. Wheat continued to improve and in many sections it is heading rapidly; the outlook now for an average crop is very promising. Oats made fine progress and looks well. Grass is generally unusually heavy in meadows and pastures. Clover is doing nicely, the outlook favors an excellent crop of hay. Early potatoes are doing well. Potato bugs are very plentiful and are doing considerable damage. Gardens are coming on well. Peaches and pears are in rather poor condition, leaves are curled up and the fruit is dropping badly. Cherries and grapes fine. Apples fair. Maximum temperatures ranging from 70 to 80 degrees occurred during the week. Minimum temperatures did not fall below 46 degrees.

A Pill for the Ill.

"They'll do you good," a physician said in giving some pills to his patient, a woman who had suffered for months from diseases which baffled skillful treatment. His words proved true. The woman rejoices.

The hurry and bustle of the housewife is extremely wearing upon the delicate organism of womanhood.

Her intense earnestness in whatever she undertakes, tempts her constantly to go beyond her strength.

Mrs. L. E. Browning, of Pueblo, Colo., was one who did this.

"Eight years ago," said she, "my husband died and I was left with three children to care for and educate.

"The burdens of life fell heavily upon me, but I determined to make the best of it.

"I succeeded in my undertakings for a livelihood, but in doing so overtaxed myself, and undermined my health.

"I was very ill about two years ago with blood poisoning, caused by an abscess that had not received proper treatment.

"The disease settled in my throat for a time, causing intense agony.

"Then inflammatory rheumatism set in. For four months and a half I was a prisoner in my room, most of the time confined to my bed.

"My hands were swollen so that I could not feed myself, and the swelling in my feet and ankles would have made walking impossible if I had been strong enough.

"One day, after considerable treatment, my physician brought me a box of pills.

'You need a tonic,' he said, 'and something that will act at once, and this is the best medicine for that purpose.'

"Pills!" I exclaimed in surprise as he opened the box and showed them.

'Yes,' he replied, 'these are Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, but you need not be alarmed, they are not physic, and my word for it, they'll do you good.'

"Before I had been taking them a week I noticed a great improvement in my condition. Soon my rheumatism was gone.

"I grew stronger each day and now am in the best of health.

"I consider Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the best tonic.

"A friend not long ago was telling me of her mother who is at a critical period in her life.

"She was subject to terrible fainting spells, and the entire family would work over her.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have not only stopped the fainting spells, but given her so much strength that she is able to take up life's duties again."

To more highly endorse her words, Mrs. Browning made affidavit before George W. Gill, Notary Public.

All diseases arising from an impoverished condition of the blood, and most all come from that, are cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

They act directly upon the blood. Building it up with lacking constituents; it becomes rich and red, the various organs are nourished and stimulated to activity in performing their functions, and thus disease is eliminated from the system.

These pills are sold everywhere, the sale being enormous.
